Scholarship Information

Center for Student Affairs

To students who wish to apply for scholarships

This brochure is intended to introduce and provide the details of scholarship programs to help you select the most appropriate scholarship for your needs. Please read the brochure thoroughly to use the scholarship system effectively.

At university, you will focus on academic studies and also take on challenges in extracurricular and volunteer activities and so on. We hope that all your efforts will help you in your personality development. However, you may face unexpected family circumstances or unforeseen financial and social situations that make it difficult for you to continue studying at university. The scholarship system is provided to support you at such times.

Sophia University offers many scholarship programs for various cases with different conditions. This brochure will help you find the most appropriate scholarship program for your needs. Please check LOYOLA regularly as other updated information will be posted on the bulletin board. If you have difficulties selecting the appropriate program or any other inquiries, please feel free to visit or contact the desk for Financial Support at the Center for Student Affairs (1F, Bldg.2).

We hope that the scholarship programs will be used to support as many students as possible and help them lead a productive and rewarding campus life.

(1) Aim of the Scholarship System

The aim of the scholarship system is to provide partial donations or loans for the tuition fees of students who are experiencing financial hardship that makes it difficult to continue their studies despite their high academic performance, to enable these students to devote more time to their studies and go about their university life without worry.

(2) Applying for Scholarships

Each scholarship has its own criteria for application and selection, and the numbers of recipients are limited, so there may be cases in which students are not accepted, despite meeting all the criteria. Before applying for a scholarship, please consider your living conditions carefully, discuss it thoroughly with your family and think carefully about which scholarship to apply for.

(3) Application Preparation

Scholarships must be applied for by the student him/herself, and the grant or loan will be awarded to the student him/herself too. Students must consider their financial situation before applying, and must prepare all necessary documents. Students may be asked detailed questions about their financial circumstances at the interview, so please talk to your family beforehand so that you can provide accurate information.

(4) If Your Family's Financial Situation Suddenly Changes

If the main earner in your family loses his/her job or passes away, or if a disaster or some other circumstance causes a sudden change in your family's finances, which makes it extremely difficult to continue your studies, you can ask us for help at any time.

(5) Selection Criteria

With the exception of Sophia University Academic Excellence Awards and some Sophia University Benefactors' Scholarships, the criteria for selection are financial hardship and good academic performance, with a particular focus on financial hardship.

In terms of the level of financial hardship, based on data up till last year in the case of the JASSO Scholarship Loan Program, it is unlikely, unless there are special circumstances, for students to be selected as recipients if the annual income of the family is greater than ¥15 million before tax, though this varies depending on the number of family and the scholarship type.

Students are also unlikely to be selected for the Sophia Tuition Support Scholarships if their family's annual income exceeds ¥7 million or if their family has business income exceeding ¥4 million (It depends on each family's situation).

In terms of academic performance, students whose grades do not meet a certain standard may not be selected regardless of the level of financial hardship. We hope that Sophia University's scholarships will lead to an improvement in recipients' grades.

〈Receipt of multiple scholarships〉

Receipt of multiple Sophia scholarships is allowed for a maximum amount equivalent to the tuition and fees for the academic year. However, it is not allowed to receive multiple tuition reduction scholarships (New Student Scholarship and Tuition Support Scholarship, etc.).

External scholarships offered by public or private organizations have different policies for the receipts of multiple scholarships. Please check the application requirements before applying.

〈Process from Application to Granting〉

All notifications on scholarship applications are announced on the Loyola Bulletin Board.

Please download the Guidelines/Application forms.

Be sure to check the announcements; the download period may differ by each scholarship.

The deadline must be met. Late applications will not be accepted. Read the guidelines thoroughly to prepare all documents required. If you cannot prepare all the documents due to unavoidable reasons, please consult the Center for Student Affairs before the deadline for submitting the papers.

Some scholarships have interviews for selecting recipients/ nominees. Please be sure to check the date, time and place of the interview. If you miss the interview, you will be disqualified (nomination will be cancelled for external scholarships).

Results of screening will be notified (for external scholarships, the nomination will be notified) as an individual notice on Loyola Bulletin Board.

For external scholarships, the nominees will be selected, and the scholarship organizations will select recipients.

They will have their own selection process, application papers and may conduct interviews, so check the instructions given by the Center for Student Affairs and the scholarship organizations.

Benefit/loan type scholarship payments will be made through bank transfer to the student's account. For recipients of the tuition reduction scholarship, the scholarship amount will be deducted at payment of tuition.

* Depending on the tuition payment status, we may transfer the scholarship directly to the recipients of the tuition reduction scholarship through your bank account.

〈Necessary Documents for Application〉

The required documents vary depending on the scholarship, so please refer to the application guidelines for more details. Generally, the following documents are required.

1) Scholarship Application Form

You must submit one for each scholarship you apply for. Please fill in the form, detailing the reason for your application.

2) Report on Living Conditions

Please fill out this form, detailing your family's current circumstances. If it is discovered that a scholarship student has purposely omitted any necessary information or provided fraudulent information, scholarship payments will cease and the student will be required to return the money. so ensure that the information provided is accurate.

3) Academic Transcript

You will need to provide a transcript of grades received at this university as well as prior grades if applicable.

4) Certificates of Income

You must provide proof of your income and that of family members mentioned in the Report on Living Conditions (father, mother, spouse, siblings, etc). However, this is not required for financially independent family members. For details, please refer to the application guidelines. If you, or someone in your family, is receiving income from overseas, you must provide an official statement from the authorities \(national, state, etc\) from that country. If another person is supporting the household in place of parents or other family members, you must provide proof of that person's income.

If you are receiving unemployment benefits, welfare benefits, a family pension, or disability benefits, please provide copies of the related documents. You may also need to provide other documents depending on the situation.

5) Others

In addition to the above documents, other documents may be needed depending on the individual status of the student or family members (rental agreement for students commuting from outside their home /detailed statement of medical payment under long-term medical treatment/ Disability Certificate etc.). For detailed information, check the Application Procedures for each scholarship program.

4. Financial Support for Sudden Change in Family's Financial Circumstances

---

We offer financial support for students facing a sudden change in family's financial circumstances caused by job loss, bankruptcy, business bankruptcy, illness, death, separation of household supporter (father/mother) or by disasters such as fire, storm and flood damages. Other than regular scholarship applications, special procedures are required; please contact the Center for Student Affairs once the sudden change occurred.

5. Financial Support for Victims of Major Disasters

Special Financial Support is provided for students affected by major disasters. Information on this support for 2023 new students, students on continuous enrollment and current students who were on leave of absence or study abroad in the 2022 Autumn Semester will be posted on the Loyola Bulletin Board and University website in early April 2023. You can apply for this financial support when an enormous disaster happens. For inquiries, please contact the Center for Student Affairs.

6. Japan Student Services Organization (JASSO) Scholarships

Japan Student Services Organization (JASSO) is an independent organization that provides general support for Japanese national students. One function of the organization is the provision of scholarship loans for students with excellent grades who are experiencing financial difficulties that make it difficult for them to continue their studies, in order to contribute to the growth of individuals who have the potential to make a valuable contribution to the government or society, and to help provide equal opportunities for education.

This scholarship loan is given by JASSO, and comes in two forms, Type I (interest-free) and Type II (with interest.) Those selected will be paid monthly from the month they are selected until they graduate or leave the university, and must repay it after graduation by a pre-determined method.

(2) Scholarship Loans While Studying Abroad

Generally, the payment is stopped while the recipient is on overseas study program. However, if the recipient submits a request and JASSO approves it, the scholarship may be paid during the overseas study. If you wish to make the request, contact the Center for Student Affairs (Financial Support Section) in advance.

Type II (Short Overseas Study) Scholarship Loan

<Those Who Are Receiving the Loan>

If you wish to receive a lump-sum loan payment for overseas study (Choice of ¥100,000, ¥200,000, ¥300,000, ¥400,000 or ¥500,000), you should apply for Type II (Short Overseas Study) Scholarship Loan and obtain approval.

<Those Who Are Not Currently Receiving the Loan>

Type II (Short Overseas Study) Scholarship Loan is granted only to students on short overseas study program between three months and one year. The application periods vary depending on the month you begin your overseas study; be certain to check the application deadline on Loyola Bulletin Board.

<Reference> Application period in 2023 (Plan)

(3) Procedure after Selection

Students selected as recipients of the JASSO Loan Scholarship Program, excluding recipients of emergency loans, will receive scholarship loan payments from the time they are selected until graduation. The following procedures are necessary.

Time	Procedure	Details
Selection	Post- selection procedure	1. Attend a guidance for scholarship recipients and receive a certification. 2. It is obligatory to submit the Loan Repayment Consent Form right after the selection. : Must submit signature and seal of co-signers and guarantor, as well as income certificate. * Income certificate must be a different one from the one you submitted at the time of application.
Every year Autumn Semester	Eligibility check	Submit (online) application for renewal of scholarship loan. If no application is submitted, scholarship loan payments will be terminated.
End of every academic year	Grades reported	The university will report the student's grades to JASSO. If the student's grades are inadequate, payments will be terminated.
Last year of payments (Autumn Semester)	Repayment briefing session	1. Attend Information Session on how to return loan funds. : Attendance is mandatory for upper year scholarship students. 2. Register Relay bank account. 3. Disbursement starts after 7 months from the termination of the loan funds (by bank transfer).

Notes: 1. These procedures may change. They will be announced on Loyola Bulletin Board, so be sure to check it regularly.

2. Special procedures are necessary for studying abroad, taking leave or changing the amount of monthly payment.

(4) Repayment

JASSO scholarships are loans and must be repaid after graduating or leaving the university. There is a repayment briefing session held in the Autumn Semester of the student's final scholarship year. The repayment process begins after graduation or after the student leaves the university.

[Amounts and Repayment Sample Plans for 2022 Type I Scholarship Loans for a Recipient in the First Student Year]

Graduate students who received a JASSO Type I (interest-free) scholarship and have excellent academic achievements may apply for the Repayment Exemption Award. Application details will be announced on Loyola Bulletin Board in December.

7. External Scholarships for Japanese Students (Offered by Public/Private Organizations)

Outside Sophia University, there are a number of external scholarships provided by local governments and private organizations, foundations and corporations. Students can apply for these scholarships through the Center for Student Affairs. Conditions such as application procedures, target students, selection criteria, number of recipients and amounts vary depending on the organization.

- For some scholarships, students need to be nominated by the university. However, it doesn't guarantee the acceptance of the scholarship, as the nominated students also need to pass the selection by the provider of the scholarship.
- Students selected for external scholarships are expected to consider themselves representatives of Sophia University and behave in a suitable manner for a scholarship recipient and work even harder at their studies.
- Students who are already nominated by the university for one of the external scholarships cannot be nominated for another.

〈Application Process〉

University-Recommended – the university takes applications and selects candidates to nominate to the organization.

University-Coordinated – students submit applications to the organization through the university.

Direct Application – students submit applications directly to the organization.

〈Eligibility〉

Eligibility and conditions differ according to the organization, so for details please check the information on Loyola.

* The list of external scholarships provided by local government and private organizations is in the scholarship information booklet of Japanese version. Please refer to p.19 of the booklet for more details.

8. Scholarships for Study Abroad

The University requires the Overseas Travel Alert issued by the Foreign Ministry of Japan (MOFA) to be lower than Level 1 for all students to join on-site study abroad including privately-funded study abroad. The conditions and acceptance of applications for the study abroad scholarships could change depending on the situation. Information will be announced on Loyola/or the University website before the application period of each scholarship. (For inquiries: Center for Global Education and Discovery, 1F Building No.2)

Scholarships Available for International Students (Student Visa Holders)

The “International Student” refers to a non-Japanese student who has come from abroad to study at Sophia with a “Student” (ryugaku) status of residence. Students who have not completed the procedures detailed as below in 1. are not eligible for Sophia scholarships or external scholarships, so please ensure that you have done this.

As for the Japanese Government (Monbukagakusho : MEXT) Scholarship, please refer to p. 32 or consult at Center for Global Education and Discovery. (1st floor, Building No. 2)

1. Procedures for International Students at Sophia University*

1) Obtain a “Student” status of residence.

Consult the Immigration Bureau for information on this procedure.

2) Submit proof of college student status of residence.

Students are required to submit their “Certificate of Residence” and a copy of both sides of “Residence Card” to the university. They must be submitted to the university at the time of enrollment with the application papers. If you extend your “Student” status of residence or change to a “Student” status of residence from a different status during your time at Sophia, submit it to Center for Academic Affairs (Counter No.4, 1st floor, Building No. 2).

[Note] If the status of residence you have submitted to the university has expired, you will not be eligible for any international student scholarships.

2. Scholarships for Privately Financed International Students (Overview)

1) Web Service Bulletin Board

All scholarship information and notifications are posted on the Loyola Web service bulletin board. Be sure to check the Scholarships section on the Center for Student Affairs page on Loyola. (Bulletin Board > Advanced Search > Student life > Scholarship for International Students)

  - Direct Application – students submit applications directly to the organization

3. Sophia University Tuition Support Scholarship (for Privately Financed International Students)

This is a grant-type scholarship (repayment is not required) providing partial or full tuition for students who are experiencing financial hardship that makes it difficult to continue their studies despite tremendous motivation.

〈Awarded to〉

Privately financed international degree students (undergraduate / graduate) who have “Student” status of residence (*1) of currently valid period.

※ In the following cases, note that students are ineligible for this scholarship:

- When an undergraduate student has fulfilled the minimum required residence term and is paying the reduced tuition fees for having 12 credits or less remaining.
- When a graduate student has fulfilled the minimum required residence term for his/her course and is paying reduced tuition fees for doing thesis work only.
- Students who are not proven to be experiencing financial difficulties.
- Students with inadequate grades.
- When a student is receiving other tuition deduction scholarships.

(*1) If you will be unable to acquire “Student” status of residence before the application deadline, please notify Center for Student Affairs in advance.

〈Amount〉

One of the following: full, half, or one-third of the tuition

※ There is a maximum limit for students in the Faculty of Liberal Arts who entered before 2020 as below.

	Full tuition	Half tuition	One-third tuition
The maximum grant per term	16 credits	8 credits	6 credits
The maximum grant per quarter	8 credits	4 credits	3 credits

7. External Scholarships (Offered by Private Organizations)

- Applications for scholarships from private organizations such as foundations and corporations are handled by the Center for Student Affairs.
- Conditions such as application procedures, eligible students, selection criteria, the numbers of recipients, and amounts vary depending on the organization.
- Even if students are nominated for university-recommended scholarships by the university, they may fail to be selected in the selection held by the organization.
- Students cannot be nominated for more than one university-recommended scholarship at a time. Combined application to multiple external scholarships is allowed but you may not apply additionally to other university-recommended scholarships until the selection result is announced by the scholarship organization for which you first obtained recommendation. Therefore, before applying, be sure to examine closely the scholarship organization for which you wish to obtain recommendation.
- Students selected for external scholarships are expected to consider themselves representatives of Sophia University and behave in a suitable manner for a scholarship recipient and work even harder on their studies.
- Receiving private organization scholarships does not come with conditions that restrict the recipients' course options.

〈Application Types〉

University-Recommended – the university takes applications and selects candidates to nominate to the organization.

University-Coordinated – students submit applications to the organization through the university.
