

Mami Tanaka

Adjunct Lecturer, Faculty of Summer Session Sophia University

Mami Tanaka holds a Master's degree in Linguistics from the University of Florida.

Her extensive teaching experience encompasses all levels of Japanese at esteemed institutions such as the University of Florida, Lawrence University in the USA, and International Christian University in Japan. Presently, she serves as an Assistant Teaching Professor at Pennsylvania State University.

Her instructional portfolio extends to courses Japanese Culture and Linguistics, Japanese Through Manga, Extensive Reading, Contemporary Japan, and Second Language Acquisition.

At Sophia University she instructed First Steps in Japanese, levels 2, 3, and 4 of Japanese and Japanese Culture & Language.

Her pedagogical interests lie in Japanese language, culture, linguistics, and Extensive Reading in Japanese. In the realm of research, her focus spans second language acquisition, pragmatics, discourse analysis, conversation analysis, and extensive reading. Additionally, she is a creator and publisher of online graded books and essays.

She possesses the OPI (Oral Proficiency Interview) Tester Full Certification in Japanese, ACTFL (American Council on Teaching of Foreign Languages).