

Yumiko Naito

Yumiko Naito received her B.A. in English Literature from Tokyo Woman's Christian University and her M.A. in Japanese Pedagogy from Columbia University. She has taught at Middlebury Summer School and the ICU Summer Program. She has worked for several liberal arts colleges such as Vassar College and Washington and Lee University.

Her research interests are Taishu Engeki (Popular Theatre). She has traveled with one of the most popular troupes and is working to introduce this traditional performing art to the U.S.