

Brieuc Monfort

Associate Professor, Department of French Studies, Faculty of Foreign Studies, Sophia University, Tokyo, Japan

Brieuc Monfort holds a Ph.D. in economics from EHESS in Paris. He previously worked at the International Monetary Fund in Washington D.C. on countries in Africa and Latin America, and for the French Treasury in Paris and Tokyo. His research is focused on macroeconomic policies, covering both fiscal and monetary policies, as well as the economics of aging. He is also an associate researcher at the Fondation France-Japon de l'EHESS (FFJ) in Paris and a fellow at the European Institute at Sophia University.

Sébastien Lechevalier

Professor at the School of Advanced Studies in Social Sciences (EHESS), Paris, France, and visiting researcher at the German Center of Japanese Studies (DIJ), Tokyo, Japan

Sébastien Lechevalier is specialised in the study of Asian Capitalisms, with a focus on the relations between technologies and societies. He is also the founder and the president of the Fondation France-Japon de l'EHESS (FFJ). He is the principal investigator of INNOVCARE (2024-2028) : “Care-led innovation: the case of eldercare in France and in Japan”, selected as a Priority Research Program by the French government (France 2030).