

Information for new students regarding Orientation Day

September 1, 2025

1. What is the Orientation Day?

Sophia University holds an orientation for new students every semester. The program is a one-day session for all incoming degree students to help them transition to college life, make new friends, and get to know seniors and professors. New students can receive academic information about course registration and other important details at the orientation. Seniors will also provide useful tips and advice on various aspects of campus life.
