

Department of Journalism SPSF Curriculum

Education and Research Objectives

To study the social roles, functions and influences of all aspects of journalism and media communication, and investigate a broad range of problems in news reporting and media.

Human Resource Development Objectives

To produce graduates well-versed in the types of communication required of a fully-fledged member of society, with advanced communicative skills and media literacy.

Diploma policy

The Department of Journalism sets standards for the skills and knowledge students should acquire before graduation as follows. Those who fulfill the graduation requirements shall be deemed to have acquired these qualities and will be awarded a diploma.

1. Accumulation of academic knowledge of the various disciplines of journalism, media communications, information, etc. and the practical skills to engage in research, analysis, critical thinking, structuring and presentation based on such knowledge.
2. The ability to learn from both dimensions of “theory and practice” and to be a leading player in journalism or other fields that deal with media communications and information.
3. High-level communication skills and media literacy to live the informatizing modern world.

In addition to the above, the SPSF course sets the following abilities which students should acquire before graduation as common requirements across its six departments (Department of Journalism, Department of Education, Department of Sociology, Department of Economics, Department of Management, Department of Global Studies).

4. The ability to learn the basic knowledge on “Sustainable Futures,” to understand its importance, and to take action towards resolving challenges to the sustainable futures by drawing upon their academic discipline as well as from the other five disciplines in the SPSF course they learn.
5. The ability to understand and apply the interdisciplinary perspectives and methodologies, learned in their academic discipline and in the other five disciplines of the SPSF course, when addressing issues and presenting their ideas.

Curriculum policy

In accordance with the Diploma Policy, the Department of Journalism constructs its curriculum with courses aligned to the following purposes:

1. To have students study the fields of journalism, media communication and information taking a theoretical approach, media-specific approach, international approach, and realistic problem analysis approach.
2. To achieve a “broad education that is biased to neither theory nor practice” by balancing the abovementioned curriculum with a practical approach aimed at improving such expressive skills, verification skills and critical skills.
3. To nurture critical perspectives, research and analytical skills, and ethics in small-group education, by enrolling all students in individual seminars taught by full-time faculty members.
4. To require students to compile a thesis under the individual guidance of a full-time faculty member as a culmination of the knowledge, analytical skills and other skills acquired during the four years of enrollment.

In addition to the above, the SPSF course constructs its curriculum in the following manner, for the purpose of achieving the common diploma policy across the six departments:

5. To enable the students during the first year to acquire a basic knowledge on “Sustainable Futures” and the relating issues through the SPSF General Studies Courses, drawing on the perspectives of six disciplines. Based on the acquired knowledge, the students will be able to deepen their understanding in various challenges related to the sustainable futures through Elective Courses in the University-wide General Studies Courses, and they will be also able to learn about the approaches, contents, and methodologies of the different disciplines through Specialized Courses offered by each department.
6. To enable students to gradually gain knowledge of the different disciplines of each Department and also acquire a wide range of knowledge through the courses offered by other faculties and departments which have been designated to offer Elective Compulsory Courses or Elective Courses. Thus, the students will be able to acquire the various perspectives, contents, and methodologies, as well as comprehensive approaches from the courses.

3. Guidelines for Course Registration

- 1) For general information for SPSF students, refer to the "For all SPSF students" page.
- 2) For General Studies information, refer to the "General Studies" page.
- 3) For Language courses information, refer to the "Language" page.
- 4) Students are required to write their bachelor's thesis in accordance with the guidance of their supervisor.
- 5) Information on Department of Journalism Specialized Education.
 1. Refer to the "Student Year" column in the Specialized Education Courses for the year in which you can take each course. If the student does not satisfy the "Student Year", the course cannot be taken in other departments or the Department of Journalism.
 2. If a student earns more than 26 credits in Compulsory Elective courses, they will be regarded as SE Electives in the Department of Journalism and counted towards graduation requirements.
 3. Some SE courses offer the same content in English and Japanese. Students can only take one or the other. For details, refer to the Course list for the Department of Journalism in the remarks.
 4. Up to 12 credits of Compulsory Elective courses in the Japanese Track can be applied towards graduation requirements as SE Compulsory Electives.
Note: Students can take a maximum of 24 credits for the courses in the Japanese Track for graduation credits.
 5. Up to 12 credits of courses from other departments (excluding language courses) and Course(s) for Teacher & Curator Certification, with course numbers starting with 62, except "Teaching Practice 1, 2, 3 (教育実習 1、2、3)" and "Museum Curator Field Work 1, 2 (博物館実習 1、2)" can be applied towards graduation requirements as SE Electives. Students should consult with the instructor in charge of the seminar before selecting courses.
 6. Up to 12 credits of General Studies, excluding "Compulsory" and "SPSF Common Core (Theme Based)", can be applied towards graduation requirements as SE Electives in the Department of Journalism.
 7. As for 5) and 6) above, note that only a total of 12 credits can be applied towards graduation requirements.
 8. To enroll in the "GLOBAL MEDIA PROGRAM", students are required to successfully complete "COMMUNICATION 1" first.
 9. To enroll in the "GLOBAL MEDIA PROGRAM", students are required to pay the practicum fee.

6) Course Numbering

Numbering shown in the list of assigned courses refers to the following. For information about numbering, refer to "Academic Service" section.
