

Kikue Yamamoto – Management Consultant & PT Professor

Kikue has passion in teaching students around the world as well as Japanese students and business persons who are interested in becoming globally competent.

She currently teaches at Tohoku University as a part-time lecturer, Sendai Japan, teaching following classes, 1, “Global Career B; Japanese Communication Behaviors,” 2 “Global Career A: Business (in Japan).” She also teaches Intercultural Exchanges class at Miyagi Gakuin Joshi Daigaku, Japan.

She is an experienced independent corporate trainer, consultant and executive coach, and representative of her company. She specializes in: intercultural communication training to all levels; e.g., Pre-departure, Post-departure, Diversity, Intercultural Awareness, Team-building, Meeting & Personal Leadership (one of my biggest current passion); Coaching Training, Performance Management Training, Interpersonal Communication Training.

She received a M.A. with distinction in Communication, University of New Mexico, USA, and two B.A.s; one in American and English literature from Hosei university in Tokyo, and the 2nd in journalism from SF state university, USA.

Her latest publication is :“Communication at Multi-cultural Societies,” Kikue Yamamoto/Kyoko Yashiro(co-publication), Sanshu-sha, April 2019. This is in Japanese.

She is recognized as Senior facilitator for Personal Leadership by plseminars.com.

She is certified as Professor by Ura-senke of tea-ceremony.

She lived in the States for 10 years, is bilingual of Japanese and English and currently living with her husband in Sendai,