

GENERAL STUDIES

PHILOSOPHICAL ANTHROPOLOGY

For students entering between 2002 and 2005:

The following Philosophical Anthropology(人間学) courses are compulsory for all students who entered the Faculty of Comparative Culture between 2002 and 2005. These courses must be taken in combination with each other, and in principle should be taken in the semester the student enters the university.

PHA121	Philosophical Anthropology 1	2 cr
PHA122	Philosophical Anthropology 2	2 cr

For students entering between 2000 and 2001:

Students who have not yet taken PHA120, Philosophical Anthropology (4 cr), should take the above courses instead.

LANGUAGES

Common to all FCC students:

Students must complete 8 credits in one single language chosen from among the languages offered in the university's language program:

- Chinese, French, Japanese, Spanish (offered by FCC)
- Arabic, German, Indonesian, Korean, Latin, Portuguese, Russian, Tagalog (offered by other faculties or the General Foreign Language Program, 一般外国語教育センター)

N.B.

1. Students are encouraged to select a language that they have not previously studied. A student who chooses a language he or she has studied previously and is placed at an advanced level may encounter difficulties in completing the required 8 credits in one language.
2. The language required for non-native speakers of Japanese is Japanese unless they demonstrate sufficient proficiency on the Japanese Placement Test. Citizenship is not a consideration in determining whether a student is a native or non-native speaker; students who are uncertain whether they are a native or non-native speaker should consult one of the Japanese language teachers. See p. 59.

3. Language Course must be taken in the correct sequence. Credit will not be given for a language course of a level lower than one taken previously.
4. Students who wish to continue study of a language other than Japanese beyond the required 8 credits may include additional credits in their SE Electives as specified below:
  - a. Up to 4 credits of advanced courses in the same language selected to fulfill the language requirement may be included in the student's SE Electives.
  - b. Up to 8 credits in a second language may be included as SE Electives.
  - c. Apart from Japanese, the credits for a third language cannot be counted for graduation.
5. There is no limit to the number of Japanese language credits that may be included as SE Electives.
6. In principle, no withdrawals are allowed for language classes offered by other faculties and programs. If a student withdraws from such a class, he/she may not subsequently choose that language to fulfill the language requirement.
7. DJLS students are required to attain a specified minimum level of proficiency in Japanese (see p. 94)

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

For students entering between 2002 and 2005:

“Theory and Practice of Wellness” (ウエルネスの理論と実践), 2 credits, is compulsory for all students who entered between 2002 and 2005. This course, will be offered in Japanese every semester and in English every autumn semester. Students will be assigned to appropriate classes. In principle, this course should be taken in the semester the student enters the university. A special course for handicapped students will also be offered (see “Course Schedule and Other Announcements”). No withdrawals are allowed for this course.

For students entering between 2000 and 2001:

The compulsory courses in Physical Education for students entering before 2002 are “Physical Education Practice I (Health & Physical Fitness Course)” and “Physical Education Practice II (Lifelong Sports Course),” 1 credit each, and “Introduction to Wellness (lecture course, ウエルネス概論),” 2 credits.

Students who have not yet completed these courses should consult with the Center for Academic Affairs.

INFORMATION LITERACY

For students entering between 2002 and 2005:

“Information Literacy” (情報リテラシー), 2 credits, is compulsory for all students entering between 2002 and 2005. It will be offered in Japanese every semester; an English version will be offered every autumn semester. Students will be assigned to appropriate classes. In principle this course should be taken in the semester the student enters the university. No withdrawals are allowed for this course.

GS DISTRIBUTION AND ELECTIVE COURSES

The courses offered by the Faculty of Comparative Culture as part of the General Studies program provide an introduction to major themes and approaches to study in various key areas of human knowledge. Students must take one course from each of the three categories of GS Distribution Courses (The Legacy of the Past, Cultural Traditions, and The Contemporary World) for a total of 12 credits. Depending on the year of entrance, they must take further credits as GS Electives as specified below.

For students entering between 2002 and 2005:

In addition to the 12 credits of GS Distribution Courses, students must take a further 4 credits as GS Electives. These 4 credits may be chosen from (a) any of the three categories of GS Distribution Courses, (b) FCC General Studies Elective Courses, or (c) any courses listed in the university-wide General Studies Program as Zengaku Kyôtsû Kamoku (全学共通科目).

For students entering between 2000 and 2001:

In addition to the 12 credits of GS Distribution Courses, students must take a further 12 credits as GS Electives. These 12 credits may be chosen from (a) any of the three categories of GS Distribution Courses, (b) FCC General Studies Elective Courses, or (c) any courses listed in the university-wide General Studies Program as Zengaku Kyôtsû Kamoku (全学共通科目)

Common to all FCC students:

Some courses are listed under both General Studies and Specialized Education categories and may be chosen to fulfill requirements in either category. However, the same course may not be used to fulfill requirements in both categories simultaneously.

Note that there are sometimes changes in the list of FCC GS Distribution and Elective Courses. A course will only be counted as a GS Distribution or Elective if it was listed as such in the year when it was taken.

Note that courses with numbers starting with 0 offered by the university-wide General Studies Program as Zengaku Kyôtsû Kamoku (全学共通科目) may only be counted as GS Electives.
