

SUMMER SESSION OF ASIAN STUDIES

Every year students and professionals from throughout the world come to the Summer Session of Asian Studies at Sophia in quest of a broader understanding of Japan and Asia. The Summer Session offers these students the opportunity to take two upper-level intensive courses (6 credits) running from roughly the last week in July to the third week of August. The courses are also open to FLA/FCC students. Credits earned in the Summer Session will be counted as Specialized Education Electives.

COURSES

ARZ320	Japanese Art
IBZ446	Japanese Business and Management
IBZ415	Contemporary Japanese Economy
IBZ435	Comparative Asian Industrial Systems
HSZ310	Japanese History: Edo and Tokyo
LIZ333	Japanese Literature and the City
LIZ440	Japanese Theater
RPZ330	Survey of Japanese Religions
RPZ410	Religion, Cities, and Sacred Centers
POZ300	Contemporary Japanese Politics
SOZ410	Foundations of East Asian Culture
SOZ470	Contemporary Japanese Society

N.B. Summer Session courses carry 3 credits each.

For descriptions of these courses, please refer to the following webpage:
<http://www.fl.sophia.ac.jp/academics/programs.html>