FACULTY OF LIBERAL ARTS CURRICULUM

The curriculum is divided into two parts:

- General Studies (GS)
- Specialized Education (SE)

General Studies (全学共通科目 Zengaku Kyōtsū Kamoku)	32 credits
Compulsory courses
① (必修科目 Hisshū Kamoku)
Languages	8cr
Health and Physical Education	2cr
Information Literacy	2cr
② (選択必修科目 Sentaku Hisshū Kamoku)
Studies in Christian Humanism	4cr
GS Distribution Courses	12cr
GS Electives (選択科目 Sentaku Kamoku)	4cr
Specialized Education (学科科目 Gakka Kamoku)	92credits
FLA Core Program
Thinking Processes	4cr
English Composition 1	4cr
English Composition 2	4cr
Public Speaking	4cr
Major Courses	48cr
SE Electives	28cr
A total of 124 credits is required for graduation.

 For students who entered before 2010 and have not yet taken Philosophical Anthropology 1 and 2:

Philosophical Anthropology 1 and 2 are no longer offered. The students who have not yet taken or have failed them must take a total of two courses from the "Christian Humanities" courses.
see p.365

Qualifications for taking courses offered in Japanese by other faculties and programs

To register for courses offered in Japanese by other faculties and programs, a student must be a "graduate of a Japanese high school" or have demonstrated sufficient proficiency in Japanese by receiving a qualifying score on the Japanese Placement Test or passing Japan 343, Reading and Writing 3.

Certificate Programs

Together with completing the requirements for a Bachelor of Arts degree, students may obtain a Certificate in Japanese Studies or Japanese Language Pedagogy. For details, see pp.369–370 for the Certificate in Japanese Studies, and pp. 370–371 for the Certificate in Japanese Language Pedagogy.

LANGUAGES

Students must complete 8 credits in one single language chosen from among the languages offered in the university's language program:

- Chinese, French, Japanese, Spanish (offered by FLA)
- Arabic, German, Indonesian, Italian, Korean, Latin, Portuguese, Russian, Tagalog (offered by other faculties or the General Foreign Language Program (一般外国語教育センター))

N.B.

1. Students are encouraged to select a language that they have not previously studied. A student who chooses a language he or she has studied previously and is placed at an advanced level may encounter difficulties in completing the required 8 credits in one language.
2. The language required for non-native speakers of Japanese is Japanese unless they demonstrate sufficient proficiency on the Japanese Placement Test. Citizenship is not a consideration in determining whether a student is a native or non-native speaker; students who are uncertain whether they are a native or non-native speaker should consult one of the Japanese language teachers.
3. Students who are assigned to Japanese language track 3 (Japanese Reading and Writing Courses) (see p.67 of the Bulletin of Information for 2010-2011) on the basis of the Japanese placement test and want to choose Japanese to fulfill their language requirements must obtain approval from the coordinator of the Japanese Language Program. For procedure, please consult with the FLA Office.
4. Language courses must be taken in the correct sequence. Credit will not be given for a language course of a level lower than one taken previously.
5. Students who wish to continue study of a language other than Japanese beyond the required 8 credits may include additional credits in their SE Electives as specified below:
 - a. Up to 4 credits of advanced courses in the same language selected to fulfill the language requirement may be included in the student's SE Electives.
 - b. Up to 8 credits in a second language may be included as SE Electives.
 - c. Apart from Japanese, the credits for a third language cannot be counted for graduation.
6. All students, whether native or non-native speakers, may include up to a total of 28 credits in Japanese as SE Electives.
7. In principle, no withdrawals are allowed for language classes offered by other faculties and programs. If a student withdraws from such a class, he/she may not subsequently choose that language to fulfill the language requirement.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

"Wellness, the Body and Culture" (ウエルネスと身体), 2 credits, is compulsory for all students. In principle, this course should be taken in the semester the student enters the university. The course will be offered in Japanese and English every semester. Students will be assigned to the appropriate class. A special course for handicapped students will also be offered every Autumn Semester (see the "Course Schedule and Other Announcements"). No withdrawals are allowed for PE courses. See also 要覧共通編pp.49-51 and 55-56.

INFORMATION LITERACY

"Information Literacy" (情報リテラシー), 2 credits, is compulsory for all students. In principle, this course should be taken in the semester the student enters the university.

Students will be assigned to appropriate classes. The course conducted in Japanese will be offered every semester: an English version will be offered every autumn semester.

Some student may delay taking it until their second term for linguistic reasons. No withdrawals are allowed for this course.

Please note that students who want to take an English version course or who did not take an Japanese version course in the first semester should register during the pre-registration period. For details, see the "Course Shedule and Other Announcements."

STUDIES IN CHRISTIAN HUMANISM

Two courses in the category “Studies in Christian Humanism” (キリスト教人間学) for total of 4 credits are compulsory for all students who are enrolled in the Faculty of Liberal Arts. Normally, students must take one course in their first semester and another the second semester.

Philosophy of the Human Person*	2cr
Origins and Developments of Human Dignity*	2cr
Philosophy of Human Rights and Human Dignity	2cr
Philosophy of Human Violence	2cr
Philosophy of Love	2cr

*offered in the spring semester

offered in the autumn semester

Please note that places in these courses will be chosen by lottery so students should register for these courses during the pre-registration period. For details, see the “Course Schedule and Other Announcements”, for Spring and Autumn Semester 2010”.

For students who entered before 2010 and have not yet taken Philosophical Anthropology 1 and 2:

Philosophical Anthropology 1 and 2 are no longer offered. The students who have not yet taken or have failed them must take a total of two courses from the above list, but can take only one Christian humanism course in a semester.

GS DISTRIBUTION AND ELECTIVE COURSES

The courses offered by the Faculty of Liberal Arts as part of the General Studies program provide an introduction to major themes and approaches to study in various key areas of human knowledge. Students must take one course from each of the three categories of GS Distribution Courses (The Legacy of the Past, Cultural Traditions, and The Contemporary World) for a total of 12 credits. In addition to the 12 credits of GS Distribution Courses, students must take a further 4 credits as GS Electives. These 4 credits may be chosen from (a) any of the three categories of GS Distribution Courses, (b) FLA General Studies Elective Courses, or (c) any courses listed in the university-wide General Studies Program as Zengaku Kyōtsū Kamoku (全学共通科目).

Some courses are listed under both General Studies and Specialized Education categories and may be chosen to fulfill requirements in either category. However, the same course may not be used to fulfill requirements in both categories simultaneously.

CATEGORIES AND LIST OF COURSES

GENERAL STUDIES DISTRIBUTION COURSES

The Legacy of the Past: The courses in this category introduce students to the experiences of different human societies, from ancient times to more recent periods. They look at the development of institutional, intellectual, and social patterns that continue to influence our ways of thinking and acting today.

HST201, 202	History of Western Civilization 1, 2
HST251, 252	Development of Japanese Civilization 1, 2
HST261, 262	History of Chinese Civilization 1, 2

Cultural Traditions: From the very beginning humans have sought to communicate their ideas about themselves, their societies, and the world. The courses in this category introduce written and artistic expressions of human creativity. They provide students with experience in the analysis and interpretation of particular literary texts, philosophic concepts, works of art, systems of belief, and symbolic structures.

*N.B. These courses carry 2 credits each.

Note that there are changes in the list of FLA GS Distribution and Elective Courses.

The courses will only be counted as GS Electives if they were taken in the year when they were listed as GS Electives. They may still be counted as SE Electives.

FLA CORE PROGRAM

The following courses are compulsory for all students enrolled in the Faculty of Liberal Arts and must be taken during the first and second year.

ENG111	English Composition 1	4cr
ENG112	English Composition 2	4cr
ENG115	Public Speaking	4cr
THP101	Thinking Processes	4cr

English Placement Test and Course Assignments

Incoming students will be given an English placement test and, on the basis of the results, will be assigned to English Composition 1 or 2 or given a waiver for the course. To fulfill the total number of credits needed for graduation, students given a waiver for English Composition 1 or 2 should take an equivalent number of credits as additional SE Electives. Any student who does not demonstrate the English skills necessary to take English Composition 1 will first be required to take Basic Skills courses in writing and/or reading comprehension (2 credits each). These courses will count towards graduation as SE Electives.

N.B.

1. No withdrawals are allowed for FLA Core Program courses, including Basic Skills.
2. Students must enroll in the FLA Core Program courses in sequence. If a student fails a Core Program course (including Basic Skills), he/she must repeat and pass the course before proceeding to the next level.
3. Course Registration for FLA Core Courses
Students who are scheduled to take FLA Core courses are assigned to class sections at the start of each semester. These assignments cannot be changed. However, you must register yourself for the section to which you have been assigned.

MAJOR COURSES

The Department of Liberal Arts offers three majors:

Comparative Culture
International Business and Economics
Social Studies

Students must choose a major at the end of their third term and meet its requirements. Each major requires students to complete 48 credits. For details, please see the sections pp.372–375.

SPECIALIZED EDUCATION ELECTIVES

Students should take as SE Electives a total number of 28 credits chosen from the Specialized Education courses offered by the Faculty of Liberal Arts or other faculties and programs of the university.

N.B.

1. Students may count as SE Electives a maximum of 8 credits chosen from courses included on the list of FLA General Studies Courses (see pp.366)
2. Students may count as SE Electives a maximum of 16 credits chosen from courses offered by other faculties and programs of the university. If a student chooses to study a language not offered by FLA, the credits taken in that language will not be included in the 16-credit limit.
3. There are regulations concerning the number of credits in language courses that may be counted as SE Electives (see p.364).
4. Second-term first-year students and above may count credits earned in the Summer Session as SE Electives.
5. Zengaku Kyōtsū Kamoku (全学共通科目) courses with course numbers (科目コード) starting with "0" offered by the university-wide General Studies Program may not be counted as SE Electives. (see 要覧共通編pp.126–138)

6. Credits in courses starting with the course number (科目コード) "62" taken in the programs for certification as junior and high school teachers (教職課程) or as curators (学芸員課程) may not be counted as fulfilling the credits required for graduation. The tuition for these courses will be waived. (see 要覧課程編)

CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

FLA students who wish to apply for one of the following certificates should submit their application in their last term. They will receive the certificate at the time of graduation.

JAPANESE STUDIES CERTIFICATE

Together with completing the requirements for a B.A. degree from FLA, students may combine GS, Major, and Specialized Elective courses to obtain a Certificate in Japanese Studies (日本研究履修証明). For the certificate they should complete six courses (24 credits) in designated Japanese Studies (JS) courses according to the following specifications.

JS courses are divided among two categories: A (Comparative Culture) and B (Social Studies and IBE). FLA students must take a combination of courses from both categories, with a maximum of four courses (16 credits) from a single category. At least three courses (12 credits) must be taken as SE electives.

Students from other faculties and non-degree students may obtain a Certificate in Japanese Studies by completing six courses (24 credits) in designated FLA JS courses. These students should take a combination of courses from categories A and B, with a maximum of four courses (16 credits) from a single category.

JAPANESE LANGUAGE PEDAGOGY CERTIFICATE

Together with completing the requirements for a B.A. degree from FLA, students may combine GS and SE Elective courses from the Faculty of Liberal Arts and the Faculty of Foreign Studies to obtain a certificate in Japanese Language Pedagogy (日本語教授法履修証明). Students from other faculties and non-degree students may also obtain the certificate by fulfilling the requirements listed below.

The Ministry of Education's guidelines for the qualification to teach in Japanese language schools (below university level) are a bachelor's degree in Japanese Language Pedagogy or successful completion of the Japanese Teaching Competency Test authorized by the Ministry in 1988. Although FLA cannot offer courses in all the areas covered by the test, the program aims to provide a foundation for students who would like to prepare themselves to take it.

Students who wish to pursue this certificate should take 24 credits as described below.

Requirements

- LNG 210 or LNG 301 is compulsory.
(Students in other faculties can take 言語学概論1 & 2 or 日本語学概説1 & 2, instead.)
- At least one course should be taken from LNG 304, 305, 306.
- At least one course should be taken from LNG 473 or 474.
- 12 credits can be taken from Category I or II.
- FLA students can include one advanced Japanese course.

◆ MAJOR COURSES

COMPARATIVE CULTURE

The Comparative Culture major emphasizes interdisciplinary approaches to knowledge within three fields: art history, literature, and religion-philosophy. Students take 48 credits in the major distributed among a primary and secondary field. The primary field consists of 36 credits in one of the above three fields. At least 4 credits in the primary field should be a 400-level course. The secondary field consists of 12 credits taken in another field.

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS

Courses offered in this major emphasize both the development of tools of theoretical and empirical analysis and the application of these tools to the understanding of specific economic phenomena and managerial problems. The major stresses the international dimensions of both business and economics. Within this global context, special attention is given to Japanese business and economic studies.

Students majoring in International Business and Economics must complete 48 credits of IBE courses, including five 300-level courses and three 400-level courses.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The Social Studies Major provides students with historical, comparative, and theoretical insights into the processes that constitute civilizations and social orders. Courses consider how particular societies and cultures have changed over time, patterns of similarity and difference across events and places, and how these patterns and processes have been interpreted and depicted in popular and scholarly imagination.

The Social Studies Major has three fields: anthropology–sociology, history, and political science. Students take 48 credits in the major with 36 being in the primary field and 12 in the secondary field of a student’s choosing. The distribution of compulsory courses varies among the different fields.
